

photo taken by Jim Wagner

Amerigo Vespucci (1451-1512) was an Italian explorer who explored the east coast of South America between 1499 and 1502. Cartographer Martin Waldseemüller produced a world map and named the continent of America after Vespucci's first name; a feminized Latin version. Christopher Columbus is still credited with discovering the American continent.